Lecture 17

Indicators

Technical indicator: Mathematical computation based on historical price and volume which aims to help forcast futur price mouvement and is mostly used for entry/ exit signals.

Bollinger Bands

Bollinger bands are composed of a N-period moving average and two bands. An upper band that is set at X times above the moving average, and a lower band that is set X times bellow the moving average.